

Environmental Studies Concentration - March 2016 update

(applicable for class of '18 and '19)

6 course concentration

ENVI 101:
Nature and Society

ENVI 102:
Introduction to Environmental Science

One elective from the Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences

Chosen from full list of courses in catalog under this heading

One elective from Environmental Policy

Chosen from full list of courses
in catalog under this heading

One elective from the Natural World

Chosen from full list of courses
in catalog under this heading

One 400-level Environmental Practicum (in junior or senior year)

ENVI 411 Practicum: Environmental Planning Workshop

- offered every fall, taught by Sarah Gardner
- local client-driven projects, nature of projects varies

ENVI 412 Practicum: Environmental Science and Policy

- offered every other spring, taught by Pia Kohler, next offered Spring 17
- broadly coll. projects around common theme, theme 2017: Climate Change

ENVI 413 Practicum: Environmental Culture and Society

- offered every other spring, taught by Nick Howe, next offered Spring 18
- broadly coll. projects around common theme, theme 2018: Local Env'l History

Optional Senior Thesis

Supervised by ENVI faculty member

Can be either year-long, or 1 semester+ winter study

Key

Red: Requirement (no choice)

Purple: Selected from restricted list of options

Green: Electives